Passengers hit hard due to train cancellations

Passengers are seen near a train cancellation board that is put up at City Railway Station this morning. Several trains have been cancelled, diverted or rescheduled from today till June 23.

Mysuru, June 16 (MTY&BCT)- Several regular train passengers from Mysuru had to bear the brunt of train cancellations that began this morning. South Western Railways (SWR) had announced that several trains will be cancelled, diverted or rescheduled from June 16 to June 23 as a result of maintenance work that is underway at the Mysuru Yard.

Today being a Sunday, passenger traffic was not to the maximum. The real effect of the cancellations will be seen from tomorrow. Today several passengers were seen haggling with auto drivers to take them to Sub-Urban Bus Stand from the City Railway Station as the autos were demanding more than the metre fare. EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

What we mean by the word 'wink' is to close one eye briefly as a way of greeting someone or showing friendliness, affection or sexual attraction, or showing that you are not serious about something you have just said. So you can praise someone and wink at them when they turn their back. Sometimes a friend may talk about something seriously but if he winks at you, it means he is joking. Similarly, winking is used to control interaction to indicate that something is not to be taken seriously or to show a friendly attitude towards the other. A wink may seem to be simply an eye movement, but it is also a facial expression. Since the head usually moves slightly to one side while winking, it is a head movement. However, when you wink surreptitiously there will be no head movement. In fact, the presence or absence of head movement can be a crucial factor in the beholder interpreting the significance of a wink. Winking accompanied by a short, sharp downward tilt of the head to one side is a useful gesture.

Stunning portrait from rolled vinyl tape

Sacramento: Sacramento-based artist Danny Schleibe, the creator of a unique art form called "tapigami", has spent a whopping 200 hours making an awe-inspiring portrait of actor Bill Murray exclusively out of hundreds of rolled pieces of vinyl tape glued to a wooden panel.

The artist has spent the last 14 years of his life refining the contemporary art of tapigami, which looks very similar to quilling, only with vinyl masking tape instead of rolled pits of paper. He recently perfected his technique to a level that allows him to create portraiture, and his first project was an amazing portraits of Bill Murray made out of tiny strips of rolled tape. It's only when you get up-close and see how he nailed all the subtle details, like the actor's beard and eyes, that you really start to appreciate all the work that went into the artwork.

Drunk man unknowingly swallows house keys

Guangdong: A Chinese man experiencing severe chest pain was shocked to learn that his discomfort was caused by the house keys he thought he had lost the night before after getting drunk with his friends.

The man, identified solely as Chang, from Guangdong in China, went out for drinks with his friends. When he got home he searched for his keys, but couldn't find them, so he called someone inside and asked them to let him. The next morning, Chang started experiencing a sharp pain in his chest, so he went to the local Hospital where doctors performed an X-ray and were shocked to see a key lodged in his esophagus. They asked him about it, and he admitted to losing his house keys the night before, but couldn't offer any explanation as to how they wound up inside his body.

In a metastatic cancer study with 240 patients, some were treated with chemotherapy with aloe, and some without. Almost all in the non-aloe group were deceased.

Really...?

- Kamakhya Temple is a famous pilgrimage situated at Guwahati, Assam. Being one of the 108 Shakti Peeths, it has a very interesting story of its origin. When Lord Shiva's wife Sati jumped into the fire and killed herself, Shiva went insane with rage. He placed Sati's dead body on his shoulders and did the tandav or dance of destruction. Lord Vishnu started cutting parts of Sati's body in order to calm Shiva down. The place where Goddess Sati's womb and vagina fell is the Kamakhya Temple.

VOICE OF THE READER

Say it with trees

Picture shows MCC employee Madegowda along with two workers, Naganna and Krishnappa, planting one of the saplings close to my house.

Sir,

The biggest problem that the world is now facing is the environmental issue. This has resulted due to blind industrialisation (that is, building huge factories which emit thick black carbon fumes, open cast mining and building concrete jungles both by destroying thick forests, emitting automobile fumes, etc.) over the last 100 years or so. The net effect is the raising of the world's average temperature, melting of glaciers, rising of mean sea level, reduction in rainfall and consequently drying up lakes and rivers with drastic lowering of natural underground water depths.

The only way this trend can be reversed is by consciously planting more trees in urban areas. With the initiative of industrialist Ashvini Ranjan, who is a resident of Jayalakshmipuram, some progress is being made in this regard at least in this locality. He has promised the other residents of supplying the saplings free of cost. It is for the residents to plant them and take care of these saplings.

Having obtained two saplings, I approached the local Corporator, Bhagya, for some help in this regard and she readily provided two labourers for digging the holes. Fortunately, philanthropists like Raghavan of Raghulal & Co., have also come forward to provide the tree guards.

A few skeptics are saying that it is a drop in the ocean but they should realise that a determined effort by one person could build up as a mass movement for the good of the country (Hani Hani Koodidare Halla).

I am very pleased to record that the Deputy Commissioner and the Corporation Commissioner are also appreciative of citizen's efforts.

Devaraja Market demolition row

HC directs MCC to finalise decision within 3 months

Mysuru, June 16 (RK,SR &BCT)- The Karnataka High Court has directed the District Administration, Mysuru City Corporation and the Heritage Committee to decide on the fate of Devaraja Market building within three months.

The Court has directed the authorities to decide whether to restore or demolish or re-construct the Devaraja Market building. A portion of the building had collapsed in August 2016 and two expert committees (Karnataka State Technical Task Force and Heritage Committee) have given contradictory recommendations on the heritage structure.

While the Task Force has recommended rebuilding of the structure, the Heritage Committee has suggested restoration. A few vendors had approached the Court, opposing the demolition.

While disposing a bunch of writ petitions, filed by tenants and owners of the shops of Devaraja Market, Justice Sunil Dutt Yadav also directed the MCC to consider the Special Heritage Committee recommendations keeping in mind the importance of preservation of the heritage structure.

The Court observed that it would be appropriate to lean towards exploring the possibilities of preservation of the heritage of the structure. Such preservation of heritage would not only result in preservation of the aesthetics of the structure, but would also be an insight into the historical memory of material and building practices.

The Court has also clarified that in light of the existing state of affairs of the building, taking note of the age of the building and portions of the building already having collapsed, proceedings to be initiated by MCC should be in an expeditious manner so as to prevent any possible loss of lives.

The Court also wanted the petitioners to cooperate with the City Civic body as it has taken the decision for their safety besides directed the MCC to protect rights of the petitioners regarding their right of re-allotment and rehabilitation in accordance with the law.

The 135-year-old Devaraja Market on Sayyaji Rao Road was constructed during 1890s. This market stands as symbol of heritage and royalty and even today the market is one of the most visited tourist places in city.

'Will not allow demolition'

Meanwhile, President of Devaraja Market Tenants Association Pailwan S. Mahadevu has clarified that the High Court has not ordered the demolition of the Devaraja Market. He said that the HC order has wrongly been interpreted. He was reacting to media reports quoting Mayor Pushpalatha Jagannath where she had said that the Court has ordered the building to be demolished.

"By wrongly interpreting the HC order, the Mayor has misguided the public. The Tenants Association has taken objection to this. The structure of Devaraja Market is strong and this has been conveyed by the Heritage Committee too. There is a need to repair the building. We will not allow the demolition of the building," he said.

Reacting to this, Mayor Pushpalatha Jagannath clarified that considering the dilapidated structure of the Devaraja Market, a proposal has been sent to the State Government. "We will follow the High Court order. Also, the reports submitted by the Karnataka State Technical Task Force and Heritage Committee have been sent to the State government. We are awaiting the decision by the Government," she said.

A pleasant surprise to vendors and shoppers

Mysuru, June 16- After the Karnataka High Court gave three months for the Mysuru City Corporation and the Heritage Committee to decide on the fate of Devaraja Market building within three months, royal couple Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar and Trishikha Kumari Wadiyar visited the Devaraja Market this morning taking vendors, shoppers and people by surprise.

While Yaduveer was dressed in printed kurta, Trishikha wore a pink saree. They walked around the market and interacted with vendors there. The couple even sat inside the shops and people and vendors clicked their photos.

Trishikha purchased fresh vegetables, greens and Nanjangud Rasabaale. She also purchased Jamun fruit (Indian Blackberry) that is available aplenty now. Vendors hesitated to accept money from Trishikha but she insisted on paying them for the things purchased. She had to fold her hands before the vendors to accept payment.

Offering their respects, many vendors fell to Yaduveer's feet and sought his blessings. On their way out, Yaduveer visited Guru Sweet Mart to purchase the famed Mysore Pak. During their interaction with Yaduveer, vendors appealed to him to save the Market from being demolished.

#WeNeedEmergencyHospitalinKodagu

Mysuru, June 16- Following a social media campaign over the demand for an Emergency Hospital, Mysuru-Kodagu MP-elect Pratap Simha said that he would make efforts to bring a super-speciality hospital to Kodagu.

In a tweet, he said that he would be meeting Dr. C.N. Manjunath, Director of the Sri Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences and Research to put up a cardiac unit in Madikeri District Hospital. Simha added that he would give Rs.5 crore from his Member of Parliament Local Area Development Fund over a period of two years for that.

Also, at a 'Meet the Press' programme at Press Club in Madikeri on Friday, the MP-elect said that many people lose their lives owing to excessive bleeding during road accidents in Kodagu. There is a need for a super-speciality hospital in order to provide a timely response for patients.

He further stated that he would hold elaborate discussions with experts in this regard and will do all possible efforts to bring a super-speciality hospital to Kodagu, with private-public partnership model.

Inspired by residents of Uttara Kannada who ran a Twitter campaign recently seeking a super-speciality hospital in their districts, people from Kodagu have started a similar drive seeking emergency healthcare services in the district.

#WeNeedEmergencyHospitalInKodagu trended on Twitter. In most of the tweets, Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy and Pratap Simha have been tagged. The CM has not reacted to the demand yet, unlike previously, when a similar demand was made for Uttara Kannada.

The tourist hotspot of Kodagu is a hilly district in the lap of Western Ghats and covers an area of 4,102 sq km. Even today, however, the district does not have a major hospital.

The residents have been forced to travel more than a hundred kilometres, either to Mangaluru or Mysuru, to avail benefits of advanced medicine, even in case of an emergency.

Many Kodagu residents and supporters of the cause pointed out the historical neglect faced by the district, in spite of it being the origin of River Cauvery and many stated that many athletes and soldiers hail from there. The demand for such a medical facility has been long pending but successive governments have not taken any steps in this direction.

Several of the actors from Kodagu origin too have retweeted the message. Actors from Sandalwood including Ravichandran, Shiva Rajkumar, Harshika Poonacha, Disha Poovaiah and Bhuvan Ponnanna have not only batted for the state-of-the-art hospital in Kodagu but also posted a video on their timeline, requesting the people to support the twitter campaign.

Actor Harshika said, "I 100% support the tweet campaign. When my father fell ill, he could not be treated at the hospital in Kodagu and had to be shifted to a hospital in Bengaluru. Nobody should go through such a situation. All must join hands together in awakening the state government."

Another actor Disha Poovaiah said, "People of Kodagu are short of many facilities. They are compelled to move to outer districts for education and job too. The people here at least deserve a super-speciality hospital." Actor Bhuvan said that a super-speciality hospital for Kodagu is the need of the hour. This will benefit the people of Kodagu as well as the tourists.

Mysuru, June 16- City-based All India Institute of Speech and Hearing (AIISH) will be developed as a Centre of Excellence (CoE) in the field of Communication Disorders at a total cost of Rs.137 crore (infrastructure, staff and equipment). The foundation stone for the works was laid by Dr. Harshavardhan, Union Minister for Health and Family Welfare, on Oct. 17, 2014.

The works are scheduled to be completed in four months as over 95 percent of the works have already been completed. As many as five research centres and a museum are coming up on the campus. Mysuru-Kodagu MP-elect Pratap Simha inspected the works recently. AIISH Director Prof. M. Pushpavathi was present.

The Centre of Excellence status upgrades AIISH infrastructure, equipment, staff strength and it is expected to boost research in the field of communication and its disorders. Nearly 2,71,250 sqft of built-up area is being added to the main campus.

Enter through Brain, Come out of Lungs!

Human Face Museum at AIISH to be first-of-its-kind in the world

Along with academic blocks, a museum in the form of a human face is also taking shape in AIISH campus. The museum gives a general idea of speech and hearing and the problems affecting communication. About 40% of works have been completed so far, at an estimated cost of Rs. 5.21 crore.

The purpose of the museum is educational or pedagogical and creating awareness among professionals and public about general knowledge, working principles, preventive measures and pathological / dysfunctional conditions in the area of communication and its disorders. It is a first-of-its-kind in the world.

The scientific museum will be in the shape of a human face. It will have a basement representing the neck of a human being, 3 floors each with a mezzanine. It is planned to use the floor, walls, and ceiling for all automated interactive displays.

Basically one should be able to enter through the brain and come out of the lungs, larynx and the oral tract (mouth) experiencing how speech is produced and language is encoded and decoded. Kumaraswamy meets Union Jal Shakti Minister

Seeks permission for Mekedatu project

New Delhi, June 16- Karnataka Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy on Saturday called Union Jal Shakti Minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat and requested him to expedite the approval for Mekedatu project, which is aimed at constructing a balancing reservoir across River Cauvery at Mekedatu close to Tamil Nadu border near Kanakapura in Ramanagaram district.

The Union Minister assured Kumaraswamy that he would convene a meeting of Karnataka and Tamil Nadu Chief Ministers to explore an amicable solution to the Mekedatu project row.

Shekhawat told the Karnataka CM that he would speak to the Prime Minister on the issue and convene a meeting of the Chief Ministers at the earliest.

CM and his Tamil Nadu counterpart E.K. Palaniswami, who were in New Delhi to attend the NITI Ayog meeting, met the Union Minister separately.

While Kumaraswamy requested Shekhawat to give early approval for the project, the Tamil Nadu Chief Minister requested him to reject the proposal.

The Central Water Commission (CWC), a nodal agency under the Union Ministry of Water Resources, had cleared the pre-feasibility report submitted by the Karnataka Government and asked the State to prepare a Detailed Project Report (DPR). Karnataka later prepared the DPR and sent it to the CWC for final approval, following which the CWC sent the DPR to Tamil Nadu for its opinion. Tamil Nadu has not submitted its opinion so far.

Kumaraswamy also appealed the Jal Shakti Minister to approve the Mahadayi Project. Shekhawat, on his part said he would call the Chief Minister of all Mahadayi Basin States — Karnataka, Goa and Maharashtra, to resolve the dispute on sharing of river water soon.

Replying to a request by the Karnataka CM to notify Mahadayi Dispute Tribunal and Krishna Water Dispute Tribunal awards, Shekhawat said he would convene a meeting of officials concerned on notifying the two awards.

CM calls on Modi

CM Kumaraswamy, who was in Delhi to attend the NITI Ayog meeting on Saturday, called on Prime Minister Narendra Modi and sought Central assistance to take up relief works in drought hit areas.

Requesting the Prime Minister to release Rs. 1,500 crore under the MNREGA scheme to the State at the earliest, the CM informed Modi that the State was facing drought this year too, with the State receiving 45 percent deficit in rainfall.

The CM also told Modi that the State Government in its memorandum to the Centre before the Lok Sabha polls had sought financial assistance of Rs. 2,064 crore to provide relief to farmers hit by drought.

Kumaraswamy later met Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman and requested her to recruit candidates knowing the regional language for Regional Rural Banks (RRBs).

Pointing out that the Institute of Banking Personnel Selection (IBPs) which recruits staff to Banks through a common recruitment process has diluted the provision of knowing local languages for candidates, Kumaraswamy maintained that the dilution not only deprives regional language speaking candidates of getting job but also proves a hurdle for banks in providing better service.

Centre says NO

to highways through wildlife sanctuaries

A full stop to Kerala's efforts to revoke the night ban on traffic through Bandipur Tiger Reserve

Bengaluru, June 16- The Ministry of Road Transport and Highways (MoRTH) that had proposed to build an elevated highway through Bandipur Tiger Reserve a few months ago, has made a sudden U-turn on its stand. Going a step further, the Ministry, in a communication to all the State Governments last week, has directed authorities to 'avoid any road alignment through national parks and sanctuaries.'

The decision of the MoRTH comes at a time when Karnataka is fighting against Kerala's efforts to revoke the night ban on traffic through Bandipur Tiger Reserve. Karnataka introduced a ban on night traffic through Bandipur in 2009 on the National Highway (NH) 766 cutting through the Tiger Reserve in Chamarajanagar. Traffic is banned on the Highway from 9 pm to 6 am to avoid road kills and reduce disturbance to wildlife.

The Ministry has asked States as well as National Highway Authority of India (NHAI) to avoid building highways through wildlife sanctuaries and national parks, unless absolutely unavoidable. "To have minimum impact of highways on the protected eco-sensitive area, the implementing agency should consider sparing sanctuaries/national parks at the planning stage and wherever possible taking a bypass/detour," the Ministry said.

The circular has been issued to NHAI, National Highways and Infrastructure Development Corporation Ltd (NHIDCL), Border Roads Organisation and States. It said all necessary clearances should be obtained before constructing highways in such areas.

The Ministry said earlier also it had issued guidelines to avoid roads through wildlife sanctuaries, even if it required taking a longer route. The circular also directed the State Governments and other agencies entrusted with the development of roads to abide by the manual prepared by the Wildlife Institute of India, Dehradun.

According to experts, the circular will go a long way in safeguarding forests. For Karnataka too, the circular comes as a shot in the arm, which will help counter repeated pressure tactics from the Kerala government to widen roads through Bandipur Tiger Reserve and also open it for night traffic.

"Development of national highways is essential for economic growth. However, alignment of highways through natural areas may have wide-ranging impact on ecology and wild species. The implementing agency should consider sparing sanctuaries or national parks at the planning stage itself," the circular added.

Rush for Aadhaar registration increasing day by day

Mysuru, June 16 (US&YDS)- With linking of Aadhaar to ration card made compulsory, the rush at Aadhaar Centres in city is increasing day by day especially with July 31 being set as a deadline for linking Aadhaar and ration card.

The rush is predominant at the Aadhaar counter at DC's office and Karnataka One centres. The centres can handle only 60 to 70 registrations per day which is too less when compared to the rush of applicants. Recently, the rush at Karnataka One centre on Seshadri Iyer Road created a chaotic situation and Police had to be summoned to regulate the crowd.

People say that the staff at Aadhaar Centres make mistakes while feeding the data and regretted that the applicant has to bear the brunt and visit the centre repeatedly to make the corrections.

Speaking to SOM, District Co-ordinator Lakshmi contended that selected banks and post officer cater only to 10 or 12 applicants for Aadhaar registrations resulting in huge rush at DC's office and Karnataka One centres. She said that the matter would be informed to the DC and sorted out. She felt that Aadhaar registration should be done at 33 Hoblis to help rural people which could reduce the rush in city.

No leave for Govt. doctors tomorrow

Private hospitals to suspend OPD services

Bengaluru, June 16 (UNI)- The Department of Health and Family Welfare has asked all Government doctors to report for work on June 17 (Monday) and ensure that medical services are not affected in the wake of nationwide protest by doctors.

In a circular, Commissioner of the Department has said that in the wake of the protest called by Indian Medical Association (IMA) on Monday, no services should be affected in Government hospitals. The Department has also said that no doctors will be sanctioned leaves tomorrow.

Private hospitals in the State, have however decided to stand by the Indian Medical Association and shut down all non-emergency services on Monday as a mark of protest against the attacks on doctors in Kolkata.

Monkey menace at View Point on Nandi Road atop Chamundi Hill

Mysuru, June 16 (MTY&KS)- A group of monkeys at the View Point on Nandi Road atop Chamundi Hill has tried to attack tourists yesterday morning creating panic and fear among the tourists.

Yesterday at about 8 am, a group of about 30 monkeys was sitting on the railings of the View Point on Nandi Statue road and when a couple of morning walkers and tourists went near the View Point to look at the city below, the monkeys tried to attack them creating a sense of fear among the tourists. This resulted in tourists returning back without viewing the city from the View Point till about 10 am when the monkeys moved to a different location.

Meanwhile, Forest Department staff said that some people have made it a habit to feed the monkeys which has resulted in the monkeys trying to snatch bags, food covers etc. and added that as Chamundi Hill is a forest, there is no provision in the law to drive away monkeys from there.

They further said that the tourists should not behave in such a way that the monkeys get agitated and added that if one person creates fear among the monkeys, they look at others in the same way and try to attack the people out of fear.

The Forest staff said that they had not received any complaint about the incident and added that the monkeys have made it a habit to sit on the railings in the morning and bask in the sun. They added that the monkeys may have screeched out of fear when the tourists went near them.

Rishyashringa Rishi brings rain to parched lands

The story of Sage Rishyashringa who was born with two horns

By Dr. Manik A.V. Bengeri

Varuna is the God of rain. During rainy season, nature gets a new look and all water bodies flow with ample water which is necessary for survival. Hence we all pray for Rain God Varuna through Yagas, Homas and chanting special Mantras.

Some special persons have special power, which is known as 'Siddhi' to invoke the Rain God and his grace through sufficient rains. Life without water is impossible and hence it is named as 'Jeevan' in Sanskrit.

We do read about such prayers, homas and yagas being performed at many places. Recently, the Karnataka State Government ordered the Religious and Charitable Endowments Department (commonly known as Muzarai Department) to conduct Parjanya Japa during Braahmi Muhurtha at all temples within its jurisdiction on June 6.

On that day, special prayers were held at Rishyashringa Temple at Kigga in Chikkamagaluru. Located at a distance of 10 kms from Sringeri, Kigga is a beautiful village situated on the banks of Nandini River, a tributary of Tunga. Kigga is famous for Rishya Shringeshwara temple.

Dedicated to Rishyashringa, the temple stands on the site where Sage Rishyashringa was absorbed in the celestial light. Built during Vijayanagara period, the temple houses a Linga of a unique shape, with three protuberances resembling horns. There is a belief that if the Linga is properly worshipped, famine will be averted. It is said, Sage Rishyashringa's advent ended drought in this place.

Rishyashringa's life

It is quite interesting to know about Rishyashringa's life, his penance and his service through his special powers. The great sage Kashyapa had two sons namely Prabhandak and Vibhandak. Prabhandak preferred to be with his father Kashyapmuni to assist him in managing routine life. But Vibhandak wanted to gain extra knowledge and hence left home. He had inherited the philosophical approach of life from his father. He went for penance for many years where he gained knowledge along with spiritual powers. But by that time Kashyapa had died.

Vibhandak's penance

Due to deep penance Vibhandak could not come for the last rituals. One day he felt like going back to meet his brother Prabhandak, his elder brother. Naturally, both of them were very happy to meet each other. He was very happy to see the progress of his younger brother Vibhandak. Both the brothers were planning for the future through their knowledge for the benefit of people. But Vibhandak was treated badly at home and hence he decided to leave the place. He went to a far off place and started his second penance. Vibhandak started gaining more and more powers as a result the King of Heaven Lord Indra started feeling insecure.

With the fear of losing his seat, he selected Apsara Urvashi and ordered her to go to Vibhandak Muni on Earth. Urvashi's job was to divert Vibhandak's concentration and she tried all her methods to attract Vibhandak. With tremendous resistance, and control Vibhandak did not yield to Urvashi's tricks for long but finally he failed and as a result, both of them entered into wedlock through Gandharva Vivaha system.

Baby with horns

In due course Urvashi delivers a baby boy but the boy was not like any ordinary child — it had horns of deer on the head. As a mother, Urvashi could not tolerate this unusual form of her baby. In desperation she abandoned her child and went back to Heaven.

Vibhandak became both-father and mother to the baby. Through his knowledge he had sensed the inner qualities of his child and started taking care of the child and trained him with the knowledge he had gained through his penance. But Vibhandak had inner hatred about the entire woman race and hence he decided to keep his son away from women. He had strictly prohibited woman entering his Ashrama.

In due course, the child gained good knowledge and people started calling him 'Rishyashringa' because of the horns on his head. Rishyashringa was brought up in such atmosphere and developed indifferent attitude towards womenfolk.

Sharp intelligence

Due to his sharp intelligence and grasping capacity, he gained knowledge of four Vedas which astonished scholars and other sages. Rishyashringa was treating everybody with honour who were visiting Vibhandak Muni's Ashrama. They all were pleased with his good behaviour and used to bless him while leaving.

Vibhandak Muni's Ashrama was located on the borders of Anga Desha. We get the information about this place, as it was the Kingdom of Karna during Mahabharata period and presently it is India's Bihar region. During the period of Rishyashringa, King Rompaad was ruling this region who was a bad ruler and people were unhappy there.

Famine hits Anga Desha

Added to bad rule, there was famine for continuous 12 years and there were no signs of rain. People became desperate and started leaving the place. King Rompaad wanted to come out of the situation but was not in a position to find a way out. At that time one sage informs him about Vibhandak Ashrama and his son with rare powers by name Rishyashringa.

The sage also tells king Rompaad that if he can invite Rishyashringa to his kingdom with proper honour then definitely the situation will improve. However, the king Rompaad was feeling guilty of his misdeeds and was scared to face Rishyashringa.

Responsibility of princess

His princess Shantha takes the responsibility of going and bringing Rishyashringa. Princess Shantha was clever to realise the situation in Vibhandak Muni's Ashrama. She had all the plans to please Vibhandak Muni as well as Rishyashringa. She becomes successful in taking Rishyashringa to her father Rompaad.

Rishyashringa was a noble soul and was far away from worldly qualities like hatred, jealousy, greed, and competition. When king Rompaad narrated to sufferings and the continuous famine in his State Rishyashringa's heart was filled with compassion and love for all the people and started praying for their welfare. When he started chanting prayers to invoke rain God, miraculously to the surprise of all the people the Rain God Varuna appeared in person and started raining abundantly.

It rained finally

The King and the people had no limits to their happiness and worshipped Rishyashringa as a superman having divine powers to bring rain and happiness. King Rompaad offers Shantha to Rishyashringa and thus the marriage is celebrated. By this time the fame of Rishyashringa spread. Rompaad was related to king Dasharath of Ayodhya.

During that period, the King Dasharath was very much unhappy as he was childless. He invited Rishyashringa to Ayodhya and requested him help him in getting heir to his kingdom. Rishyashringa accepts his invitation and performs 'Putrakameshti Yagna' in Ayodhya and later, Ram Lakshman, Bharat and Shatrughna were born.

Homecoming

Now it was time for Rishyashringa to return to his father Vibhandak Muni along with his wife Shantha. The purpose was nothing else but to serve his father during old age. But Rishyashringa comes to know that Vibhandak Muni has gone to a hill by name 'Malahanikeshvar' for penance. The couple decides to stay there to serve the old sage Vibhandak until end. Along with Vibhandak both Rishyashringa and Shantha meditated to gain Yogic power. After Vibhandak's death the couple shifted to a place by name 'Kigga' where Rishyashringa was enlightened and at that time the mantras which came out of his mouth were very powerful.

How Sringeri was born

It is said that these mantras were included in the first Veda – Rig Veda in due course. Rishyashringa stayed for a long time on this hill and hence the hill got the name Rishyashringa Giri — Giri means hill. Many a times it is noticed that there is always a change. People adopt the names which are easy to utter. Thus in due course of time the name changed to 'Sringagiri' and finally it is being called 'Sringeri'.

Shri Sharada Peetham of Sringeri is one of the four Peethas established by Adi Shankaracharya and provided the Royal status to the Peetham. It is located in Chikkamagaluru on the banks of river Tunga.

Australia beat Sri Lanka

Go top of Points Table

London, June 16- Sri Lanka made a flying start to their World Cup chase against holders Australia but failed to carry their momentum forward to be finally dismissed for 247 in 45.5 overs.

Australia's 87-run win helped them climb to the top of the World Cup points table with eight points from five matches — their only loss coming against India.

Sri Lanka captain Dimuth Karunaratne (97) and Kusal Perera both hit half-centuries in a swashbuckling opening partnership of 115 before Perera was bowled by Mitchell Starc.

Karunaratne and his opening partner Perera blasted 24 from the first two overs of their run chase and reached their fifty partnership in just the seventh over. Perera smoked Jason Behrendorff over cover for a huge six, then survived a caught behind review off Kane Richardson before belting another boundary.

Karunaratne reached his to 50 in 43 balls while Perera only needed 33 balls to reach the mark. However, after the departure of the top three, Sri Lanka lost all steam and fell way short of the target. Earlier, Australia captain Aaron Finch equalled his highest one-day international score of 153 as he powered his team to 334-7.

Finch took the misfiring Sri Lanka attack apart with a dazzling display that included 15 fours and five sixes.

SCORES

Australia: 334 for 7 in 50 overs (Aaron Finch 153, Davind Warner 26, Steven Smith 73, Glenn Maxwell 46 n.o., Isum Udana 2 for 57, Dhananjaya de Silva 2 for 40) bt Sri Lanka: 247 in 45.5 overs (Dimuth Karunaratne 97, Kusal Perera 52, Kusal Mendis 30, Mitchell Starc 4 for 55, Kane Richardson 3 for 47, Pat Cummins 2 for 38); Player of the Match: Aaron Finch.

SA beat Afghanistan

Cardiff: A 104-run opening wicket partnership between Hashim Amla (41 n.o, 83b, 4x4) and Quinton de Kock (68, 72b, 8x4) enabled South Africa to register a facile nine-wicket win over Afghanistan (by D/L) at Cardiff on Saturday. In a rain-hit tie, which was reduced to 48-overs a side (Target revised to 127), South Africa won the toss and bowling first, bowled out Afghanistan for 125 in 34.1 overs.

Openers Hazratullah Zarai (22) and Noor ali Zardan (32) batted well. Later down the order, Rashid Khan (35) scored some useful runs to boost the total. Leg-spinner Imran Tahir struck telling blows to take 4 for 29 for South Africa. SA with this win has 3 points from five games and are placed 7 in the league table while Afghanistan have not opened their account from 4 matches.

SCORES

Afghanistan: 125 in 34.1 overs (Hazratullah Zarai 22, Noor Ali Zardan 32, Rashid Khan 35, Imran Tahir 4 for 29, Chris Morris 3 for 13, Phehlukwayo 2 for 18) lost to South Africa: 131 for 1 in 28.4 overs (Hasim Amla 41 n.o., Quinton de Kock 68) by D/L method. Train cancellations

An employee of KSRTC is making announcements to guide passengers heading to different destinations from KSRTC Sub-Urban Bus Stand this morning in view of train cancellations.

Over 30 trains have been cancelled and around 15 have been partially cancelled and around five trains have either been rescheduled or diverted. "The trains will be cancelled or partially cancelled or rescheduled due to the non-interlocking work from 16.06.2019 to 23.06.2019 for the remodelling of Mysuru Yard," the Railway press release stated.

As the cancellation process began this morning, over nine trains on the Mysuru-Bengaluru section were cancelled including the trains that leave Mysuru at 6 am (Mysuru-Bengaluru Passenger), 6.10 am (Mysuru-Bengaluru Passenger), 7.45 am (Mysuru-Bengaluru Passenger via Shravanabelagola) , 8.25 am (Malgudi Superfast Express) and 9 am (Chamarajanagar-Mysore-Bengaluru Passenger). Special boards were erected at various points inside the Railway Station informing passengers about the cancellations.

Some passengers said that they had come to the Railway Station as they were not aware of the cancellations. "It was convenient for us to board the train even with weighty bags. But now we have to go to the bus stand carrying the luggage and paying for the autos," said Krishna, who was supposed to go to Shravanabelagola.

Another regular traveller Savitha opined that the Railways could have taken up the work in phases instead of cancelling 30 trains at one shot. "This has hit us hard. We have to board a KSRTC bus to Bengaluru now and take another bus from the Satellite Bus Station to reach Majestic. Also, train fare is much cheaper when compared to bus fare," she said.

On their part, KSRTC has allocated 45 additional buses to take passengers to Bengaluru, Hassan and Chamarajanagar apart from the regular fleet of buses.

Train No.12786/85 Mysuru-Kacheguda-Mysuru Expresses and Train No.12610/09 Mysuru-Chennai Central-Mysuru Expresses have been partially cancelled between Mysuru-Pandavapura-Mysuru from June 16 to 23. Similarly, reserved passengers of the pairing trains in the return direction will be brought to Mysuru from Pandavapura upon arrival of the trains at Pandavapura.
